Esther, the Doe Who Brings the Dawn

Rabbi Seth Adelson Senior Rabbi rav@bethshalompgh.org

As I write this, some weeks in advance of publication, Pittsburgh is covered in snow and the temperature is in the frigid single digits. We are huddled inside for warmth, even as we slide down the far side of the Omicron wave. This second pandemic-infused winter seems even darker than last year, perhaps because we thought this would be over last summer.

And so I am ogling the spring, with its opportunities for gathering outside and of course the festive holidays that come with the reawakening of the Earth. We are dreaming of Purim costumes, haroset recipes and the cheesecake-laden Torah of Shavuot.

There is a midrashic interpretation of Esther in the Talmud (BT Yoma 29a), that describes her as "Ayyelet haShahar," a term appearing in the incipit to Psalm 22. While commentators disagree about the precise meaning of Ayyelet haShahar, the words can be literally translated as "the deer of the dawn." The Talmud likens Esther to a comely doe who brings light to her people: "Just as the dawn is the conclusion of the entire night, so too, Esther was the conclusion of all miracles," meaning that Esther's saving of the Jews of Persia was the final biblical miracle, a metaphorical sunrise for the Jews after a long period of darkness.

While there have been plenty of deer traipsing through my yard in recent weeks, none has apparently brought an end to this long night. We await Purim eagerly, hoping that maybe this variant will have kicked up our immunities high enough as to stave off further waves, so we can enjoy the spring and all of its holidays with abandon. Let Esther bring the dawn; days of light and joy are coming.

A Message from Our President

Alan Kopolow President alankopolow@gmail.com

As the calendar tells us, it is Spring and we are hopeful that we can transition to a new normal. A normal that lets us meet in person more regularly and in a fashion that allows us to feel comfortable to be around each other. As Passover approaches, I am trying to put into perspective how our journey out of Egypt through the desert in ancient times can be compared to the period we continue to go through with respect to our journey through COVID.

Spring and Passover are times of renewal and starting over after the winter. Looking over last year's version of this edition of Mishpachtenu, we were hopeful at that time that COVID was on the wane and we would be heading into the summer and the High Holidays with some tangible return to normalcy. That is not so different from the aspirations our forefathers had of reaching the Promised Land as they wandered in the desert. Well, a year has come and gone, and once again we are hopeful that this summer and High Holiday season will return us to a viable form of normalcy after being dealt a new "plague," the omicron variant of the COVID virus.

As a popular modern quip says, "What doesn't kill us, makes us stronger." I must say that Beth Shalom has survived the ravages of the COVID virus and other tests we have been given. It certainly has made us stronger. It has allowed us to demonstrate our resiliency. We have found ways to carry on in spite of the plagues that have been put upon us. We have seen our staff, clergy, lay leadership and volunteers find ways to operate and, in some cases, improve our lot.

Let me take a few moments to enumerate some of the great things we have accomplished despite wandering in the wilderness of the COVID pandemic. These accomplishments have been done while on "Zoom" or in masked, distanced meetings. I may be the first President in Beth Shalom's history to have never met with our Board of Trustees in person. Hopefully that will change soon. We have continued to offer services both in person and through Zoom every day. Our Rabbi and prayer leaders continued to step up to make sure services were held without exception.

We have found ways to raise much needed funds in increased amounts through appeals that were almost entirely on-line. We have had numerous benei mitzvah in all forms of hybrid variation as well as several "normal" celebrations. Beth Shalom had a very successful "Come Together" event in person albeit widely spaced and masked.

Our ELC continued to operate despite changing protocols with reduced staff and lower than normal enrollment. We look forward to starting Gan Shalom later in the spring following the end of our ELC school year. We secured a number of incredibly helpful grants to help the ELC stay viable. Beth Shalom has raised the salary of its employees and is in the process of offering health benefits. We are trying to live our values with our actions.

Our Board committees have continued to meet and are making progress toward their goals. The Board of Trustees will complete a Leadership Development Training Course through the USCJ which was started in late 2021. We hope to become better leaders as a result. We continue to make progress on the implementation of our Strategic Plan as we approach the end of our third year. Our Derekh classes and activities have continued as close to normal as possible with Rabbi Goodman as interim Director. We are looking to make positive changes to the J-JEP Program and improve Youth Tefillah. We are working toward repairing our building after a long period of deferred maintenance.

We are hiring an assistant Rabbi to partner with Rabbi Adelson to improve our ability to serve our Congregation. Our new Executive Director, Robert Gleiberman, and new Development Director, Rabbi Andy Shugerman, are approaching their respective one-year anniversaries. Both have made large positive impacts on Beth Shalom. Rabbi Adelson and Rabbi Shugerman will be attending the Federation's "Mega Mission" to Israel in June representing Beth Shalom along with about 30 of our members.

I want to acknowledge and give a hardy Mazal Tov to the many groups that are part and parcel of our success.

As we go on with our regular routines and busy lives we sometimes take for granted who and what it takes to make everything happen.

A Message from our Development Director

Rabbi Andy Shugerman Development Director RabbiAndy@bethshalompgh.org

As I type these words, I am reflecting on the strange but not unpleasant sense of "deja vu" I have had recently that - until today - seemed like a mental hiccup that must come from the seemingly endless cycle of snowfall and shoveling these past several weeks.

Until today, I largely thought this was strange because this is our first Pittsburgh winter, and I did not need to shovel in Brooklyn, as our apartment building's manager handled that task for all of us tenants.

But today, Erev Shabbat, as I look forward to shoveling as a break from being homebound (again) due to local schools' closure not from COVID exposure but from snowfall, I have new insight into why this "deja vu" is both strange and increasingly pleasant.

Just shy of a year ago, not long after I finalized the terms of my new position with Beth Shalom, I was asked to submit an article for the Spring 2021 Mishpachtenu to introduce myself and my vision for development in our synagogue community. One of the core texts I cited in that piece is perhaps the most famous in this week's Torah portion, Terumah: "Make me a sanctuary, and I will dwell amidst them." (Exodus 25:8) I referred to that verse and some of the ways it has been interpreted in order to offer a window into how I approach my still-new role as our Development Director from my background as a rabbi and educator.

In thinking about that verse today and what we learn about the building of the Mishkan (wilderness sanctuary) in Parashat Terumah, I cherish how much I have learned from our lay and professional leaders here about the history of building and rebuilding on our property over the past century. Indeed, sharing those stories now plays a major role in our engagement of local elected officials as we seek public grant funding to support much needed capital improvements for the Beth Shalom campus.

And just as the Exodus narrative frames why and how the ancient Israelites built the Mishkan as a mobile sanctuary during their journey through the wilderness, the stories I have been collecting - from the groundbreaking and cornerstone-laying for our Community House in Spring 1922, through the October 1996 fire here and the major rebuilding effort that followed it - have helped us not just to understand our history but to envision projects that will bring Beth Shalom more fully into the 21st Century.

Those potential projects reflect both a set of guiding principles (safety, security, accessibility, sustainability and resilience) and an understanding of the funding landscape from private institutions like the Pittsburgh History & Landmarks Foundation, which is supporting our upcoming repairs to our Sanctuary's roof and cornices, and from public sources like the Community Investment and Tourism Fund, which provided matching funds for those our leadership raised to install our Solar Roof Project.

Halfway through 5782, I am proud to report that we are in various stages of managing grants worth nearly a half million dollars. Furthermore, our discussions with local elected leaders (County Executive Rich Fitzgerald, State Rep. Dan Frankel, and State Sen. Jay Costa as of today) have all elicited new ideas for projects, partnerships, and potential funding sources to support a revitalization of our synagogue's physical plant to match its vibrance as the spiritual home and community hub that we know and love.

As we continue this engagement and grant seeking process, I look forward to sharing more updates from the Development Committee and our various teams working hard on these projects. And if this news excites you, please let me know!

Walking the Derekh

Rabbi Mark Asher Goodman Interim Director of Derekh & Youth Tefillah mgoodman@bethshalompgh.org

Holy Chevre (Friends),

The Derekh program has several exciting programs to look forward to this spring.

First up is a three-part lecture and text learning series on Capital Punishment in Jewish Law. We look at biblical, rabbinic, and modern legal and moral sources on when society ought to (or ought not to) deliver the ultimate punishment to a person that has committed a heinous crime. The topic is certainly weighty, but we as a community rely on our tradition and law to guide us in making the right choices, rather than our emotions or the leanings of contemporary pundits and opinionators. The series takes place in-person and on Zoom on three successive Sundays; February 27, March 6, and March 13; in the Faye Rubenstein Weiss Sanctuary.

Our Speakers Series, a six-part conversation with authors of Jewish books as part of our partnership with the Jewish Book Council, continues on Tuesday, March 29 with Laura Arnold Leibman, author of Once We Were Slaves, the fascinating tale of one woman's search for her family history that would eventually discover that the families' origins were as slaves on the island of Barbados. Our fourth speaker is Marc Bookman, who will be discussing his book A Descending Spiral: Exposing the Death Penalty in 12 Essays on Wednesday, April 20. And on Sunday, May 15, Pam Jenoff will talk to us about her inspiring book The Woman with the Blue Star. All these programs are virtual. You can register for each online by going to our homepage, bethshalompgh.org. You can order the books through our partner, local bookseller White Whale, at www.whitewhalebookstore.com

On Saturday evening, March 12, we bring back the extremely popular 'Clues and Schmooze' - Noah Lubowsky and Aaron Smuckler's team-based quiz game. Join Beth Shalom's own versions of Alex Trebek and Bob Barker (Regis Philbin?) as they determine which individuals in our shul have the best grasp of a wide and varied grab bag of facts and trivia. To register, as always, check out the CBS homepage.

You should also give Beth Shalom's recurring and ongoing Torah classes a try. Rabbi Adelson's Lunch and Learn series is the first Tuesday of the month. This year's theme is "Make a Joyful Noise," about Jewish music. Rabbi Goodman (ahem, that's me) teaches a Monday Talmud class at 9:15 and a Wednesday Parashat haShavua and Hassidut class at 12:15. If you're interested in learning biblical, modern, or prayerbook Hebrew, Beth Shalom offers online classes through AJU's Maven program. And on Sunday evenings you can join CBS member Dave Held in our online parashah study group.

Youth Tefillah continues with two Saturday services every week. Manny's Service is oriented for children ages 3-7 and takes place at 11:15 am. For kids ages 7-12, we have Junior Congregation, a lively drum circle and learning service. And soon, we look forward to bringing back our engaging Friday night family dinner and service for families with young children, known as Shababababa.

There is really nothing quite like the combination of toddlers, acoustic guitar, and chicken fingers. Pure. Magic.

Growing Through the ELC

Pam Stasolla

Acting Director of the ELC pstasolla@bethshalompgh.org

Many readers of Mishpachtenu may not yet have heard of some of the special programs we offer at the ELC.

One such program is Scence with Morah Elaine. Every week Elaine Catz comes with her Super Cart of Science and teaches science in five classrooms, filled with children ages 2-5 years old.

Elaine has been the Early Childhood Science Specialist at Beth Shalom since the 2007-08 school year. Prior to that, she completed a BS in Applied Math, Engineering and Physics and a Master's Degree in Mechanical Engineering. She followed a zig-zagging career path, working at a biomedical instrument company, then spending four years as an assistant preschool teacher. Mixing those experiences together, she found her true calling in Science Education and has taught in a multitude of venues ever since.

Morah Elaine's lessons include the full range of scientific endeavor, from physics and chemistry to biology and earth/space sciences. And her equipment may include the tiniest insect in a jar, or a giant whale filling the Palkovitz lobby!

Not only do students study a wide range of topics, but they regularly practice important scientific skills, like observing, describing, classifying, questioning and hypothesizing. Hands-on activities allow the children to understand how science relates to their everyday lives. They learn about friction when racing tiny "people" down model "Blue Slides" with and without tiny pieces of cardboard. They learn that grasshoppers can jump much farther than people can, relative to their body size, by trying to jump that far themselves. They learn the difference between translucent and transparent by taking a walk through Beth Shalom and discovering clear and stainedglass windows. They also learn that it is often wise to research first and touch second, especially when dealing with things like unidentified caterpillars.

ELC parents know that when they meet their students after school on science day, they may be confronted with such questions as, "Did you know that we should not touch slime from slugs?" and "Do you know how to separate salt from pepper when it is mixed up together?" and "Do you know what the top of the tree is called?" and "How many times have you gone around the sun?" and "Do you know what to say when a bee lands on your head?"

Elaine and her husband, Sheldon, are members of Congregation Beth Shalom. Their daughter Dori graduated from the ELC thirteen years ago. Elaine says, "My husband and daughter contribute to Congregation Beth Shalom by working behind the scenes and leading religious services. I'm grateful for the opportunity to use my own talents to support the congregation in a different way. I personally believe that I have the best job of anyone I know. I love the ELC – the children, the families and my coworkers. I wake up excited to go to work every day. How many people can say that?"

We can let you in on a secret that generally only the students know – Morah Elaine's earrings give a hint as to what the class will be studying that day!

Learning with J-JEP

Rabbi Larry Freedman Director of J-JEP RabbiLF@jjep.org

Far be it from me to define Conservative Judaism to the readers of Mishpachtenu but it seems to me that it seeks not simply to know and observe mitzvot but how to apply them to the modern world. The goal is to take the words of Torah and make them come alive for 21st century Jews. I await Rabbi Adelson's correction.

Similarly, there is an understanding about values in the world of education. Two years ago, this congregation and Rodef Shalom sent me to a yearlong seminar on experiential education. One of the things they taught us was understanding values as "thin" and "thick." Bear with me.

A thin value is the value. Just the definition. Take, as an example, the value of tzedakah. Simple, yes? Tzedakah is the value of doing acts of righteousness. It is a mitzvah, a Jewish obligation to bring righteousness into the world. Very often, and certainly in a religious school, it involves dropping coins or small bills into our tzedakah box.

That is a very nice and pleasant "thin" expression of the value. One can ask, when meeting a thin value, who could disagree? I mean, who is opposed to righteousness?

The interesting part, the important part, is what happens when you thicken the value. That is what happens when you start to make the value come alive in your life. Let's say, for example, you have $100 to give to tzedakah. Do you like to give ten groups $10 or one group $100? Do you prefer to give to a proper 501(c)(3) or to a man who panhandles outside Giant Eagle?

Let the debate begin.

Should you donate to a hospital or not? And if so, which one? St. Jude's in Memphis? St. Margaret's in Aspinwall or Shaarei Tzedek in Jerusalem? Let the debate begin.

The point of thickening the value is not to find the "correct" answer. There may never be a "correct" answer. The point of thickening the value is to get a person to consider, really consider how to make the value become real, how to apply the value to the modern world. Our goal is to get the children to give thoughtful consideration to how they can live out the value and by extension, how to live out the mitzvah. It's not enough to like a value or to like a mitzvah. Real learning, real growth comes by engaging, wrestling with the value and figuring out how our students can make that value part of their lives. The goal is for you, as well, to engage and wrestle with this or that value to figure out how you live that value, express that value in a real, consistent, concrete manner.

Spring brings Pesah. Pesah reminds us to treat the stranger well (we might say, "at-risk populations" today) because you remember what it was like to be a stranger in Egypt. That is a lovely, thin, sentiment. The challenge for our seder table discussion can be "how." How, specifically, will you treat the stranger well? What concrete action will you take? There isn't a right answer. There is only your answer. So, nu? What is your "thick" answer?

BSUSY continue to meet (COVID dependent) for great snacks, pool and basketball during Lounge Nights in the Shear Youth Lounge. These Lounge Nights provide great opportunities for teens to spend time together and brainstorm new programs. Lounge nights are held for Kadima on the second and fourth Mondays and BSUSY meets the first and third Monday of each month. We hope to see you there!

We've rented our very own theater, traveled to Ohio, traversed the Minecraft world, played foosball, and ate our weight in chips! We are looking forward to spring and hosting programs outside. Here are some of our upcoming events

Gesher (Kadima) & Specialty Kinnus at Camp Wise in Ohio. We will observe Shabbat, eat delicious kosher food, learn USY traditions, give back to the community by volunteering, discussing our social action topics, and just have a great social weekend with camp friends, shul friends, and new friends!

The Jews For Justice: A Shabbat Dinner and Discussion, our five time award winning Jews for Justice Program, will be held on March 20, 2022 at 11:00 a.m. This year's theme is Jews and the Death Penalty. Register at tinyurl.com/jewsforjustice5782

Our Beth Shalom youth invite you to celebrate Purim with us at our annual Carnival to be held on Sunday, March 13, 2022, at Rodef Shalom Congregation. The Olympic sized Purim carnival will welcome both Congregation Beth Shalom and Rodef Shalom families to the opening games! The Purim Carnival is a time-honored tradition that benefits the Youth Department Programming. We are excited to bring back a fan favorite, Pie in the Face benefiting USY's Tikun Olam Fund, which allocates money yearly to different charities around the world.

Countdown to Pesah 5782/2022

MA'OT HITTIN - PASSOVER TZEDAKAH FUND

From the beginning of the month of Nisan, we are especially sensitive to the needs of fellow Jews who may need our special help and support toward fulfilling all the mitzvot of the Pesah season. If you or another member are in need of financial assistance to purchase Passover food, please contact Tika Bonner at 412-421-2288 x114 or receptionist@bethshalompgh.org. All requests will be kept confidential. A form for donating to our Ma'ot Hittin fund is available on page 14.

BEDIKAT HAMETZ: THURSDAY NIGHT, APRIL 14

The traditional search for hametz on the night before Pesah falls this year on Thursday night immediately after sunset. The blessings for bedikat hametz, found at the beginning of most Haggadot, are recited and the kol hamira formula nullifying unseen hametz may be recited. Hold any found hametz for ritual burning the following morning, April 14. If you need help finding these prayers, please contact Rabbi Adelson.

FAST OF THE FIRST BORN & SIYYUM BEKHORIM: FRIDAY, APRIL 15

All first-borns should fast on this day, usually the day before Pesah but earlier this year due to Shabbat, in commemoration of the deliverance from Egypt of the Israelite firstborn. The Rabbi offers a siyyum (public completion of study) which is followed by a festive meal at which all present may eat, and once having eaten, a first born need not fast that day. The siyyum and the se'udat mitzvah will be held this year on Thursday morning in person and over Zoom at 8:15 a.m., following the 7:30 a.m. morning minyan. We hope to be albe to eat together that morning. The Siyyum Breakfast is sponsored by Stanley & Cherie Maharam in loving memory of beloved parents and grandparents Bess & Aaron Maharam.

SALE OF HAMETZ: FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 15, before 11:00 A.M.

One of the central commandments of Pesah is that we rid ourselves of all forbidden hametz in our possession. Individuals who fully observe Pesah do their best to eliminate hametz as far as possible and then traditionally resort to the procedure of "selling" any hametz which may have been packed away or missed. All hametz must be removed or sold by 11:00 a.m. A form for selling your hametz is available on page 14. Please return it to our office by April 15 first thing in the morning.

BI'UR HAMETZ - FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 15

The ritual burning of the hametz found during Thursday night's search should be completed by 11:00 a.m. The stove should be fully kashered and all cooking proceeds in Pesah pots with Pesah utensils only. Traditionally no hametz or matzah is eaten after this time until the seder.

Pesah Yizkor Appeal 5782

Each year, during the holidays of Pesah, Shavu'ot, Yom Kippur, and Shemini Atzeret, a special Memorial Service is held. It is a time when we honor the memory of our beloved departed family members. Yizkor Services are held on these four holidays and, in the tradition of the mitzvah of giving, an appeal is made for funds during the Yizkor Service.

Our Passover Yizkor Service will take place on Saturday morning, April 23, at approximately 10:30 am. It is appropriate to make a contribution in order to link the memory of dear ones to an act of loving kindness. If you wish, please fill out the form below with the name of the loved ones you wish to honor so that their names can be printed in Mishpachtenu.

If you would like additional information regarding the Yizkor Appeal, please call the office at 412-421-2288. With grateful thanks for your continued support of our synagogue, and with all good wishes for the coming Festival.

Please tear off and mail to: Congregation Beth Shalom 5915 Beacon Street Pittsburgh, PA 15217

Ma'ot Hittin - Passover Tzedakah Fund

With the approach of spring and Passover, it has always been the tradition of our congregation to establish a Ma'ot Hittin fund which will be used to help the impoverished Jews of our city and others in need to prepare for the great festival of liberation. It is our communal responsibility to provide the necessary food for a Passover Seder and for the observance of the holiday in general. If you or another member are in need of financial assistance to purchase Passover food, please contact Tika Bonner at 412-421-2288.

Please send us your contribution (checks should be made payable to Beth Shalom Ma'ot Hittin Fund) so that we have adequate funds to help the many Jews who will be turning to us prior to Passover. Your generosity will help make other Jewish families happy as they celebrate this holiday of freedom. Thank you.

SELLING OF HAMETZ - מכירת חמץ

Hametz, not explicitly defined in the Torah, is described in rabbinic literature as being these five species of grain: wheat, spelt, oats, barley, and rye. Although matzah must be made from one of these, we are forbidden by halakhah (Jewish law) to eat, own, see, or benefit from any other form of these grains on Pesah. (Please note: rice, legumes, quinoa, corn, etc. are not hametz. See pg. 15 for more details.)

Please take the opportunity to fill out the form below and return it to the synagogue by 11:00 a.m. on Friday, April 15 in order to have your hametz included in the sale.

It is customary to include a donation to support the vulnerable in our community. These funds will be contributed to Rabbi Adelson's Discretionary Fund which is used to provide scholarships, offer assistance to those in need and to promote Jewish cultural, educational and religious activities.

A Brief Pesah Kashrut Guide

A full description of kashering processes and listing of permitted foods can be found at: www.rabbinicalassembly.org/pesah-guide

The process of kashering utensils depends on how the utensils are used. According to halakhah, leaven can be purged from a utensil by the same process in which it was absorbed in the utensil (kevolo kakh polto). Therefore, utensils used in cooking are kashered by boiling, those used in broiling are kashered by fire and heat, and those used for only cold food are kashered by rinsing in cold water.

A. Earthenware (china, pottery, etc.) may not be kashered. However, fine translucent chinaware which has not been used for over one year may be used if scoured and cleaned in hot water.

B. Metal utensils (wholly made of metal) used in fire (spit or broiler) must first be scrubbed and cleansed and then made as hot as possible. Those used for cooking or eating (silverware, pots) must be thoroughly cleaned and completely immersed in boiling water. Pots should have water boiled in them which will overflow the rim. The utensils should not be used for a period of at least 24 hours between the cleaning and immersion in boiling water. Metal baking utensils cannot be kashered.

C. Oven and Ranges - Every part that comes in contact with food must be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned. Then, the oven and range should be heated as hot as possible for a half hour. If there is a broil setting, use it. Self-cleaning ovens should be scrubbed and cleaned and then put through the self-cleaning cycle. Continuous-cleaning ovens must be kashered in the same manner as regular ovens. A microwave oven, which does not cook the food by means of heat, should be cleaned and then a cup of water should be placed in it. Then the oven should be turned on until the water "boils." A microwave oven that has a browning element cannot be kashered for Pesah.

D. Glassware - Authorities disagree as to the method of kashering drinking utensils. One opinion requires soaking in water for 3 days, changing the water every 24 hours. The other opinion requires only a thorough scrubbing before Pesach, or putting it through the dishwasher.

E. Dishwasher - After not using the dishwasher for a period of 24 hours, a full cycle with detergent should be run. It may then be used for Pesah.

F. Electrical Appliances - If the parts that come in contact with hametz are removable, they can be kashered in the appropriate way (if metal, follow the rules for metal utensils). If the parts are not removable, the appliance cannot be kashered. (All exposed parts should be thoroughly cleaned).

G. Tables, closets and counters - If used for chametz, they should be thoroughly cleaned and covered and then they may be used.

H. Kitchen Sink - A metal sink can be kashered by a thorough cleaning and by pouring boiling water over it. A porcelain sink should be cleaned and a sink rack used. If, however, dishes are to be soaked in a porcelain sink, a dish basin must be used.

I. Hametz and non-Passover utensils - Non-Passover dishes, pots and hametz, whose ownership has been transferred, should be separated, locked up or covered, and marked so as to prevent accidental use.

Permitted Foods

A. The following foods require no kasher lePesah label when purchased before or during Pesah: fresh fruits and vegetables that have not been coated, eggs, unflavored tea bags, unflavored regular coffee, 100% Extra Virgin Olive Oil, whole or raw tree nuts, whole (unground) spices, fresh fish from a kosher source and fresh kosher meat or frozen, raw hekhshered meat (other than ground products as ground products with prohibited materials could be made on the same equipment).

B. The following products require reliable kasher lePesah certification (regular kosher supervision not being sufficient) whether bought before or during Pesach: all baked goods (farfel, matzah, any product containing matzah, matzah flour, matzah meal, Pesach cakes), all frozen processed foods, candy, canned tuna, cheeses, chocolate milk, decaf coffee, decaf tea, dried fruits, herbal tea, ice cream, liquor, non Grade A butter, oils, soda, vinegar, wine, yogurt.

C. The following foods require no kasher lePesah label but do require kashrut supervision if purchased new and unopened before Pesach: all pure fruit juices in plastic or glass bottles, filleted fish, frozen fruit (no additives), non-iodized salt, pure white sugar (no additives), unsalted Grade A butter, white milk

D. Any processed food bought during Pesah must have a kasher lePesah label.

E. Any detergent, because it is not a food and it is not eaten, may be used for Pesah as long as it has valid kosher supervision.

Medicines: Since hametz binders are used in many pills, the following guidelines should be followed: If the medicine is required for life sustaining therapy, it may be used on Pesah. If it is not for life sustaining therapy, authorities differ in their approaches. Please consult with your rabbi. Capsules, because they do not need binders, are preferable to pills.

In December 2015, the Committee on Jewish Laws and Standards ruled kitniyot, or non-hametz grains and legumes such as rice, millet, chickpeas, fenugreek, etc., are acceptable for Ashkenazim to consume during Pesah provided the kitniyot have been checked 3 times before Pesah and were not stored with hametz.

The Sisterhood Says

Judy Kornblith Kobell Sisterhood President jayeko@msn.com

Spring is coming and Sisterhood is once again looking forward to the upcoming months.

In the meantime, we have been able to have a couple of in-person events over the winter. In December, Sisterhood had a very successful Hanukkah party. It was a good time to meet, eat and schmooze. I want to thank Judith Kline, Barbara Oleinick and Lidush Goldschmidt for chairing and preparing and all the set-up and arrangements. I also want to thank Cheryl Blumenfeld for hosting the gift exchange and making it so much fun.

February was our annual Sisterhood Shabbat. We were honored to have Dr. Barbara Burstin as our featured speaker. She is an author, educator and lecturer par excellence. We thank her so much for her words of wisdom. My deep appreciation to Helen Feder, who arranged for all the participants, Linda Newman for publicity and Lidush Goldschmidt for planning the walk-away kiddush.

Also in February, Sisterhood was the sponsor of the Beth Shalom Blood Drive. I am grateful that many members volunteered to greet and help out that day. Thanks to everyone. It was a mitzvah for all of us.

Sisterhood continues to support Beth Shalom events such as Latkepalooza, Purim Carnival and Mishloah Manot and, pandemic permitting, to host Shabbat dinners with the Men's Club. On another note, our Latin Cardio with Connie Pollack is in full swing, our Book Club continues and our Judaica Shop has lots of new and enticing merchandise. Please contact Barbara Kaiserman for your Judaic needs. Save the date, Sunday, April 3, for our Torah Fund Brunch!

All good wishes for a sweet Pesah and a happy, healthy 2022!

Valid May 1 to May 31, 2022 Open by appointment. Barbara Kaiserman 412.422.5677

Continuation from page 4 of our President's article

As one can see, we have much to be thankful for despite our wanderings and challenges through the COVID desert as we approach the upcoming season of renewal with hopes for easier and better times.

The message I would like to leave you with is: regardless of the hurdles (plagues) which are put before us, if we stay focused on being the best we can be and being true to our values, we will reach the "promised land" as our forefathers reached Canaan after 40 years in the desert. We have had a great year due to our resilience, the hard work of our staff, clergy lay leadership, volunteers and kindness of our congregants all working together for our common good. We must continue our diligence and hard work as we will always be tested.

May we always go from strength to strength.

Have a happy and meaningful Passover.

Humans of Beth Shalom (HOBS)

As a means of introducing members of our congregation to each other, we provide this section of Mishpachtenu, entitled Humans of Beth Shalom (inspired by the famous Humans of New York, or HONY, series). Here, we highlight one or two member "units" (a family or individual) and we look forward to introducing others in the future. We asked the responders to identify themselves and then to respond to a subset of pre-selected questions.

Irene Kaplow and David Held

Name in English and in Hebrew (phonetic).

English: Irene Miriam Kaplow Hebrew: Chava Miriam bat Aryeh Lev v'Yocheved

English: David Avi Held Hebrew: David Avi Ben Gershon Mordechai v'Yuta Chava

Where were you born and which places have you lived in?

Irene: I was born in Boston. I lived in the Boston, MA, area; then the Palo Alto, CA, area; and then Pittsburgh, PA.

Dave: I was born in Miami, FL, then I lived in Boston, then a city in Israel called Givat Shmuel, then Palo Alto, CA, and Berkeley, CA, and then Pittsburgh.

How long have you been a member of Congregation Beth Shalom?

We've been members of Beth Shalom for about four and a half years.

What are some of the ways you are maintaining a sense of community during COVID?

Irene: Within Beth Shalom, I started the Young Adult Buddy Program. Beth Shalom young adults get matched with buddies every month and have a 30-minute conversation (usually a Zoom call) with their buddies. This has enabled young adults at Beth Shalom to get to know each other even though we have not been able to have in-person events.

Havdallah at Irene and Dave's home

Dave: I organize Beth Shalom's weekly parashah study group, which Irene is active in, too. Also for a number of months during the first year of COVID, when services were only on zoom, we invited Jewish friends to our backyard for Kabbalat Shabbat or Shabbat Musaf. Sometimes we'd even gather in a foot of snow. I would shovel the backyard and we would sit in the cold and davan together.

Where were your grandparents born and how have those cultures influenced your traditions?

Irene: Three of my four grandparents were born in the United States. My paternal grandfather was born in Germany in January 1925. He was fortunate to get out in January 1939. The main influence he had on my Jewish practice was not his culture but his gratitude for having gotten to the United States before the Jews in his town were sent to concentration camps, and his commitment to helping people who were not as fortunate as he was. My grandfather took the Jewish tradition of being thankful extremely seriously; the general idea of regularly showing God that I am thankful for what I have is something that I think I learned from him. My grandfather was also committed to helping people in need both in the Cleveland area, where he spent most of his life, and in Israel. I have tried to follow his example of helping the needy by budgeting money for tzedakah and making a tzedakah donation around every major Jewish holiday.

How and why did you choose Beth Shalom as your Congregational community?

Irene: I grew up in a very traditional Conservative synagogue, and Beth Shalom was the most similar community in Pittsburgh. When I visited Beth Shalom after my interview for my postdoc, I received a really warm welcome from many members and met a couple other friendly people my age. That experience made me very enthusiastic about joining.

Describe a memory that you have as it pertains to Israel, how has it impacted you in your life?

Dave: After I graduated from college, I was traveling around Europe with good friends and we went to a Chabad for dinner while we were in Italy. There we met a bunch of other tourists who were also traveling around Europe — and, even though they came from different parts of the world, they were able to speak Hebrew to one another. It showed the power of Hebrew to connect Jews across different cultures and places because they were all able to communicate by knowing the same language. That's the moment I decided I really wanted to learn Hebrew better, which was part of why I moved to Israel for two and a half years. At some point while I was living in Israel, I had to travel to Italy for a research project, and I went to a kosher restaurant in Pisa where I spoke Hebrew. It was kind of a full circle moment because I was able to connect with Jews in Italy even though they didn't have good English skills.

What food connects you to feeling Jewish? Where is that memory from?

Dave: Growing up, our synagogue was located basically right behind my house. So every year at the end of Yom Kippur, our family would host the break-fast for our group of friends so they didn't have to walk a long way home after fasting. It brought together friends, home, synagogue, and the community in one event, and I always appreciated that.

What's something that you feel passionate about? A hobby, a belief, your work, family, etc.

Irene: I am extremely passionate about my work, which involves using genetics to study the evolution of the mammalian brain. At a more general level, I am passionate about understanding how tissues work at a molecular level and how this has changed over the course of mammalian evolution. While my work is at a very basic science level, understanding why human tissues differ from those of other closely related species has the potential to provide insights into what happens during diseases affecting those tissues. I am committed to doing work that has the potential to assist in tikkun olam, even if the tikkun olam that is enabled by my work is many decades away. I feel strongly that every Jew is capable of doing tikkun olam in some way and that people should pursue the paths to tikkun olam that they find most exciting.
