A Message from our Development Committee Co-Chairs

Debby Firestone and Alan Himmel

Fundraisers are the lifeblood of community institutions like Congregation Beth Shalom. They serve at least two vital purposes. The first is the clear goal of providing the financial resources necessary to fulfill our mission. The second, while perhaps less obvious, is equally important: building camaraderie as we work toward our shared vision for this synagogue that is our spiritual and communal home.

A beautiful example of this is "Come Together," an initiative started by Rabbi Adelson and his wife, Judy, when they first joined our family. This event has become a cornerstone of our calendar, fostering a special bond among members and strengthening our intergenerational relationships.

Our auxiliary organizations, the Men's Club and Sisterhood, are also instrumental in nourishing these two objectives. The Men's Club's Annual Sports Luncheon celebrates our inclusive spirit, while their Hanukkah Sweepstakes and Yom HaShoah candle program provide meaningful ways to give. Similarly, the Sisterhood sustains our community through ongoing aerobics classes, the Judaica Shop, and their frequent collaborations with the Men's Club. Each of these efforts is driven by a clear mission that reinforces the vitality of our synagogue.

Our most recent Mishloah Manot Purim fundraiser was a spectacular success. It brought together over forty volunteers to ensure every member of the Beth Shalom family could participate in the mitzvah of Purim giving. From the initial database management and ordering of items from Israel to the final packaging and delivery, the dedication of our volunteers is what inspired widespread community participation in this meaningful annual mitzvah.

We thank all of our volunteers, and all those that participate in fundraising efforts behind the scenes or as donors, for your extraordinary efforts in building a kehillah where we can truly celebrate, study, and pray as one.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Spotlight on Members Art and Marlene Silverman

An Interview by Debby Firestone

For more than six decades, Art and Marlene Silverman have been a steady and dedicated presence in the Beth Shalom community, building a legacy of Jewish engagement, leadership, and family continuity.

Art's connection to the congregation stretches back nearly his entire life; raised in Pittsburgh's Squirrel Hill neighborhood, he grew up attending Beth Shalom with his family, who joined the synagogue in the early 1930s. He walked to services as a child, attended Hebrew school, and celebrated his bar mitzvah there in 1949.

Growing up in Squirrel Hill, Art remembers feeling surrounded by Jewish life. "When I was young, it seemed like everyone was Jewish," he recalls with a smile. Preparing for his bar mitzvah remains one of his most vivid memories. At the time, bar mitzvah students did not typically read Torah at Beth Shalom, but Art did so anyway—much to the surprise of the rabbi, who had not been informed in advance. Once he heard Art begin chanting, the rabbi quickly realized what was happening and let him continue.

While Art's roots were firmly planted in Pittsburgh, Marlene's early life began elsewhere. She grew up in St. Louis before her family moved to Memphis during her senior year of high school after her father changed careers due to health issues. Although the move was difficult at first, it ultimately changed the course of her life. While attending Memphis State University, Marlene met Art on a blind date when he was stationed in Memphis during his service in the U.S. Army from 1957 to 1959. The connection was immediate. "It was love at first sight," Marlene says. Art quickly made an impression on her entire family, who had gathered around the table to meet him during their first date. Not long afterward, Art's parents traveled to Memphis to meet Marlene, and she soon visited Pittsburgh to meet the rest of his family.

After Art completed his military service, the couple moved to Pittsburgh to begin their life together. Today, they are approaching 66 years of marriage, with Beth Shalom serving as the center of their family life. Together they raised four children in the congregation, celebrating milestones, holidays, and life-cycle events within its walls. Many of their children and grandchildren celebrated bar and bat mitzvahs there, continuing the family's deep connection to the synagogue.

For Marlene, the congregation also became a place for leadership and service. "What drew me in were the people," she says. "I made lifelong friends there, and it gave me the opportunity to help and make a difference." She served on the synagogue's board and helped organize major events, including Beth Shalom's centennial celebration, an Israeli art exhibition, and an Israel Bonds program. Beyond the synagogue, Marlene played an active role in the broader Jewish community, serving as president of the Pittsburgh chapter of Hadassah and later chairing the Women's Division of the Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh.

She also developed a strong connection to Israel, traveling there more than 30 times for meetings, programs, and family visits. Two of the Silvermans' grandchildren made aliyah, giving the couple even more reason to return regularly.

Marlene and Art with their granddaughter Yehudis and her husband, Nathan and their four children Aliza, Eitan, Ruti and Shira who live in Tzfat, Israel.

Even while spending time in Florida, the Silvermans leveraged their Pittsburgh connections to strengthen the Sarasota Jewish community. When Beth Shalom in Sarasota was searching for a rabbi, they recommended Pittsburgh's Beth Shalom's former rabbi, Michael Werbow. The Silvermans' endorsement helped introduce him to the congregation, and ultimately, he was hired. The couple later heard from members there how deeply they appreciated his warmth, kindness, and ability to connect Torah teachings to contemporary life.

Reflecting on their journey, Art and Marlene find their greatest joy in the vibrant family they have nurtured and the Jewish values that now flourish in their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Their extended family today reflects a beautiful variety of Jewish expression—from different congregational homes to those who have answered the call to become rabbis. For the Silvermans, this unbroken chain is the ultimate reward. After decades of devotion, they see their truest legacy not just in the institutions they helped build, but in the generations of their family that remain anchored and lifted by Jewish life.
